

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Vice-Presidents, John J. Flather, University of Minnesota, and Frederick W. McNair, President of Michigan College of Mines.

Secretary, Clarence A. Waldo, Purdue University.

Treasurer, Arthur N. Talbot, University of Illinois.

Members of Council until 1905: William Esty, Lehigh University; Henry S. Jacoby, Cornell University; Lewis J. Johnson, Harvard University; Ellwood Mead, University of California; Edward Orton, Jr., Ohio State University, and William M. Towle, Syracuse University.

HENRY S. JACOBY,
Secretary (1901-2).

CORNELL UNIVERSITY.

---

ASSOCIATION OF ECONOMIC ENTOMOLOGISTS.

THE fourteenth annual meeting of the Association of Economic Entomologists met in the West Room of the Lecture Hall, Carnegie Institute, Schenley Park, Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday and Saturday, June 27 and 28, 1902. The following papers were presented:

'Some Notes on the Use of Lime Salt and Sulphur and Resin Washes in Ohio': A. F. BURGESS, Columbus, Ohio.

(1) 'Experimental Work in New York State against the San José Scale'; (2) 'Observations on Certain Insects of Pine Trees': E. P. FELT, Albany, N. Y.

'Soluble Arsenic in Arsenical Insecticides': JOHN K. HAYWOOD, Washington, D. C.

'On the Study of Forest Entomology in North America': A. D. HOPKINS, Morgantown, W. Va.

'Recent Work against Shade-tree Insects': A. H. KIRKLAND, Boston, Mass.

(1) 'Résumé of the Search for the Native Home of the San José Scale in Japan and China'; (2) 'Present Status of the Imported Asiatic Lady-Bird Enemy of the San José Scale; its Possible Usefulness with the Native Lady-bird Beetle, Chilocorus bivulnerus, and the Natural Enemies, which may Check the Influence of Both Insects': C. L. MARLATT, Washington, D. C.

'Notable Insect Occurrences in Ohio for the First Half of 1902': H. OSBORN, Columbus, Ohio.

(1) 'Report of Experiments with the Lime, Salt and Sulphur Wash against the San José Scale in Maryland'; (2) 'On the Feeding Habits of the Adults of the Periodical Cicada': A. L. QUAINANCE, College Park, Md.

'Egg-laying Record of Plum Curculio': A. L. QUAINANCE and R. I. SMITH, College Park, Md.

'Results of some Recent Experiments against the San José Scale in Georgia': W. M. SCOTT, Atlanta, Ga.

'Notes from Delaware': E. DWIGHT SANDERSON, Newark, Delaware.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. E. P. Felt, Albany, N. Y.; Vice-President, Wm. H. Ashmead, Washington, D. C.; Second Vice-President, Professor Lawrence Bruner, Lincoln, Neb.; Secretary and Treasurer, Professor A. L. Quaintance, College Park, Md.

A. L. QUAINANCE,
Secretary.

---

SCIENTIFIC BOOKS.

Ophthalmic Myology, a Systematic Treatise on the Ocular Muscles. By G. C. SAVAGE, M.D. Nashville, Tenn. 1902. Published by the author.

Dr. Savage's book is one that will doubtless gain a wide currency among ophthalmologists. Even those who differ with him the most widely must acknowledge the painstaking care, the thoroughness, the great ingenuity and the perfect sincerity which combine to make his work suggestive and valuable. Moreover, his long and ample experience in this special field gives him a certain right to speak with authority wherever practical questions are involved.

Among those who busy themselves with practical eye work, the book is sure to be widely read and quoted, and its teachings to find extensive, though not universal, acceptance. But for this very reason it becomes all the more necessary for the reviewer to point out what he cannot but regard as essential and considerable errors in the work. And if he confines himself mainly to this more ungracious part of his task, it is because the good qualities of the book speak for themselves and make encomium of them supererogatory.